Lovingly yours

Mr Muir -
 Your letter came this morning & I am much distressed that you are not well enough to come to us - It is more beautiful & invigorating than ever & I am sure it is just the air you need to chase away those
 "after effects of Grippe"

Only Roland, of my family, came out with me but Mr. Lyle & other friends, mostly Roland's College Chums, make a pleasant party for me, as the 'New France' is not with me this summer.
We have had superb weather - sunny & warm with that rare delicious atmosphere you remember - ever since we arrived.
The Titons are quite heavenly & inspiring & have been constantly in view.
The terrible terrible war casts its shadow upon us even here & Coral is in the midst - being as a "Cure" in Germany when the war broke forth - we heard she was taking the train for Berlin to join our friend the Grand - the American Ambassador & his wife.
Then the cable was cut & we know no more.
